

The Tree of Remembrance at the Oakland Public Library

It is one of life's strange truths that all new beginnings serve to remind us of the past. With that in mind, the New Friends of the Oakland Public Library are asking you to merge your own personal history with the ongoing history of the Oakland Public Library by purchasing a personalized "leaf" on our dramatic "Tree of Remembrance". The tree is displayed prominently on the wall as you enter the library, serving as a natural focal point. For a donation of $100 per name you can have a two line plaque inscribed in memory of the very special people in your life – whether they be family or friends. The first line will indicate the name of the person or persons being memorialized. The second line will indicate the name of the donor. Each line will have room for 24 characters including spaces. At this time there are only a handful of spaces left of the original 160, so make certain to send in this form and donation to the New Friends of the Oakland Public Library as soon as possible.

As it was when the tree was originally conceived, this is a very exciting time for our library. At long last the renovation of the Oakland Public Library is complete, and we are happy to embrace our role as a library and a community center. Our library combines traditional library services & programs with new technologies and shared spaces for public use. But as will all projects of this size and scope, we still have work to do. To help us continue to reach our goal simply fill out this form and return it to the library.

Remember, your donation is tax deductible!

Sincerely Yours,

The New Friends of the Oakland
Public Library
